

2014 KENDA Tennessee Knockout Extreme Enduro Schedule Confirmed

Mark your calendar for the fourth annual American Extreme Enduro

Sequatchie, TN (November 14, 2013) – The Trials Training Center in Sequatchie, Tennessee will host the fourth annual KENDA Tennessee Knockout on August 17th, 2014. The event has already become one of the premier off-road motorcycles races, attracting some of the best racers in the world.

Beta's Cody Webb won the 2013 event after finishing second the first two years and he is planning to be back to defend the title. Tennessee's own Mike Brown won those first two TKO events but struggled with the slippery conditions caused by rain in 2013. Brown will be looking for redemption in 2014.

The 2014 event will run just one week prior to the GEICO AMA EnduroCross event in nearby Atlanta. So it is expected that more of the top EnduroCross riders from the west will be able to make the long trip to the east coast to compete in both events. The expert riders will again be competing for a $10,000 purse.

The top off-road racers from around the world will be invited to compete and amateur riders can race on Saturday with the top finishers earning the opportunity to move on to the Sunday Expert Knockout rounds. On Sunday, the riders will compete in a very tough and spectator friendly four round format.
